

Tough Times Call for Tough Decisions

The RSC Budget requires Congress to reduce spending for lower priority programs in order to increase spending on higher priorities.

Low Priority Programs (Eliminate / Reduce Funding):

- Title X Family Planning
- Corporation for Public Broadcasting
- National Endowments for the Arts and Humanities
- Legal Services Corporation
- Advanced Technology Program
- U.N. Funding
- Foreign Aid

High Priority Programs (Increase Funding):

- Defense
- Border Security
- First Responders
- Homeland Security

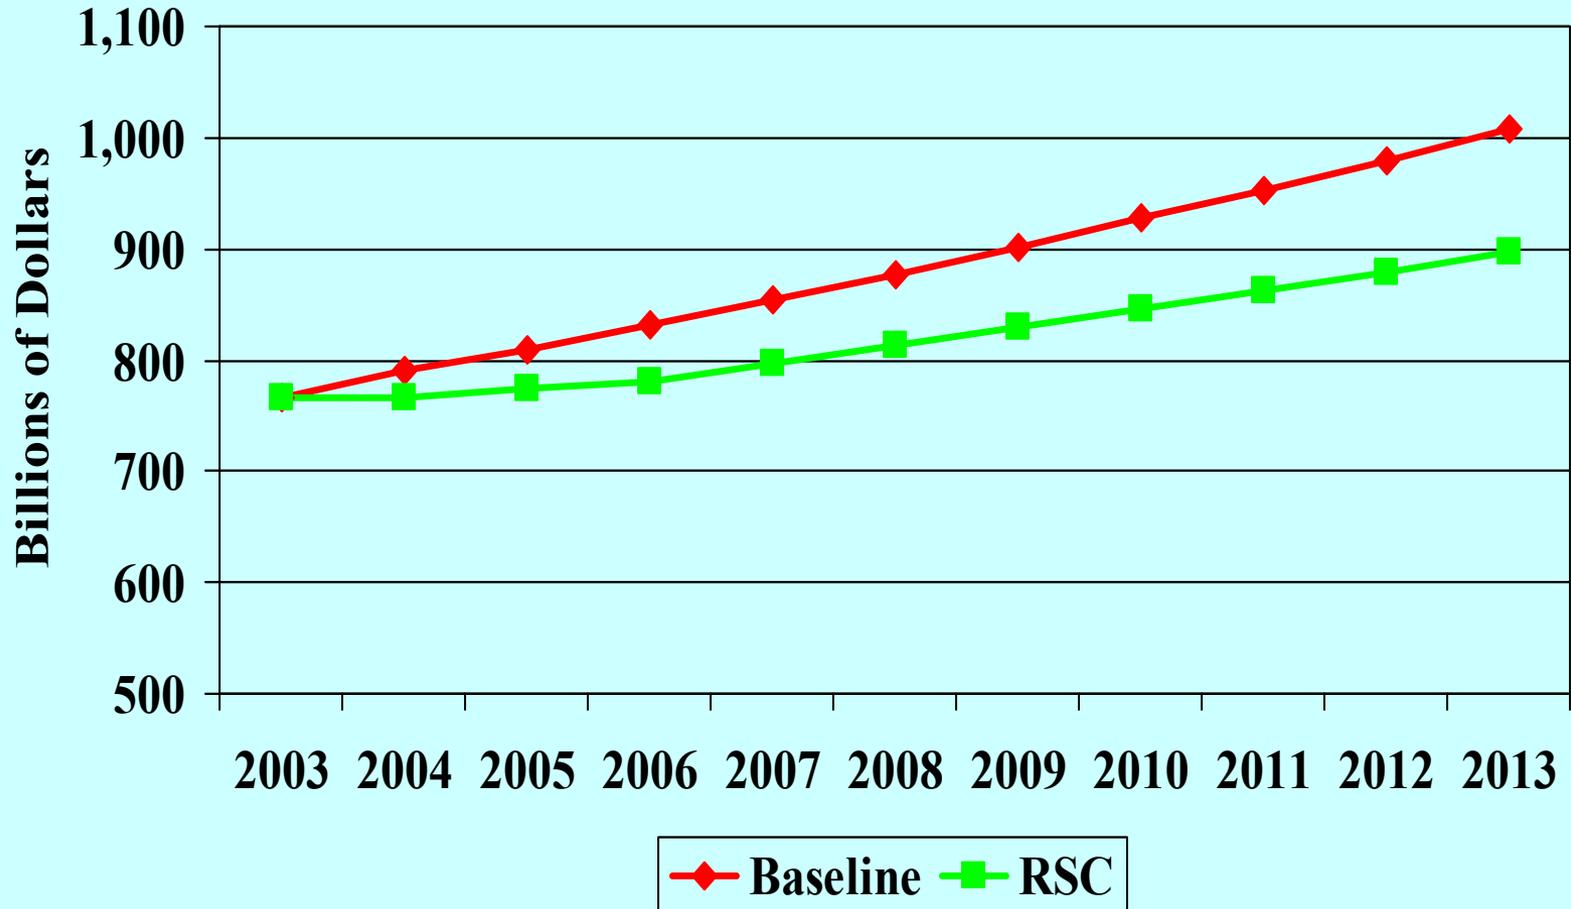

Isn't It Time to Stop Business as Usual???

In the Federal Government, there are:

- 35 food safety laws administered by 12 different agencies;
- 541 clean, air, water, and waste programs in 29 different agencies;
- 50 programs to aid the homeless in 8 different federal agencies;
- 27 teen pregnancy programs in 9 different agencies;
- 90 early childhood programs in 11 different agencies;
- 163 different job training / employment programs;
- 64 welfare programs;
- 500 urban aid programs; and
- 342 economic development programs in 13 different agencies.

The RSC Budget calls for the sunset of federal programs so that Congress is forced to review these programs and eliminate or consolidate where appropriate. Savings would be used for higher priority programs.

Discretionary Spending in the Budget

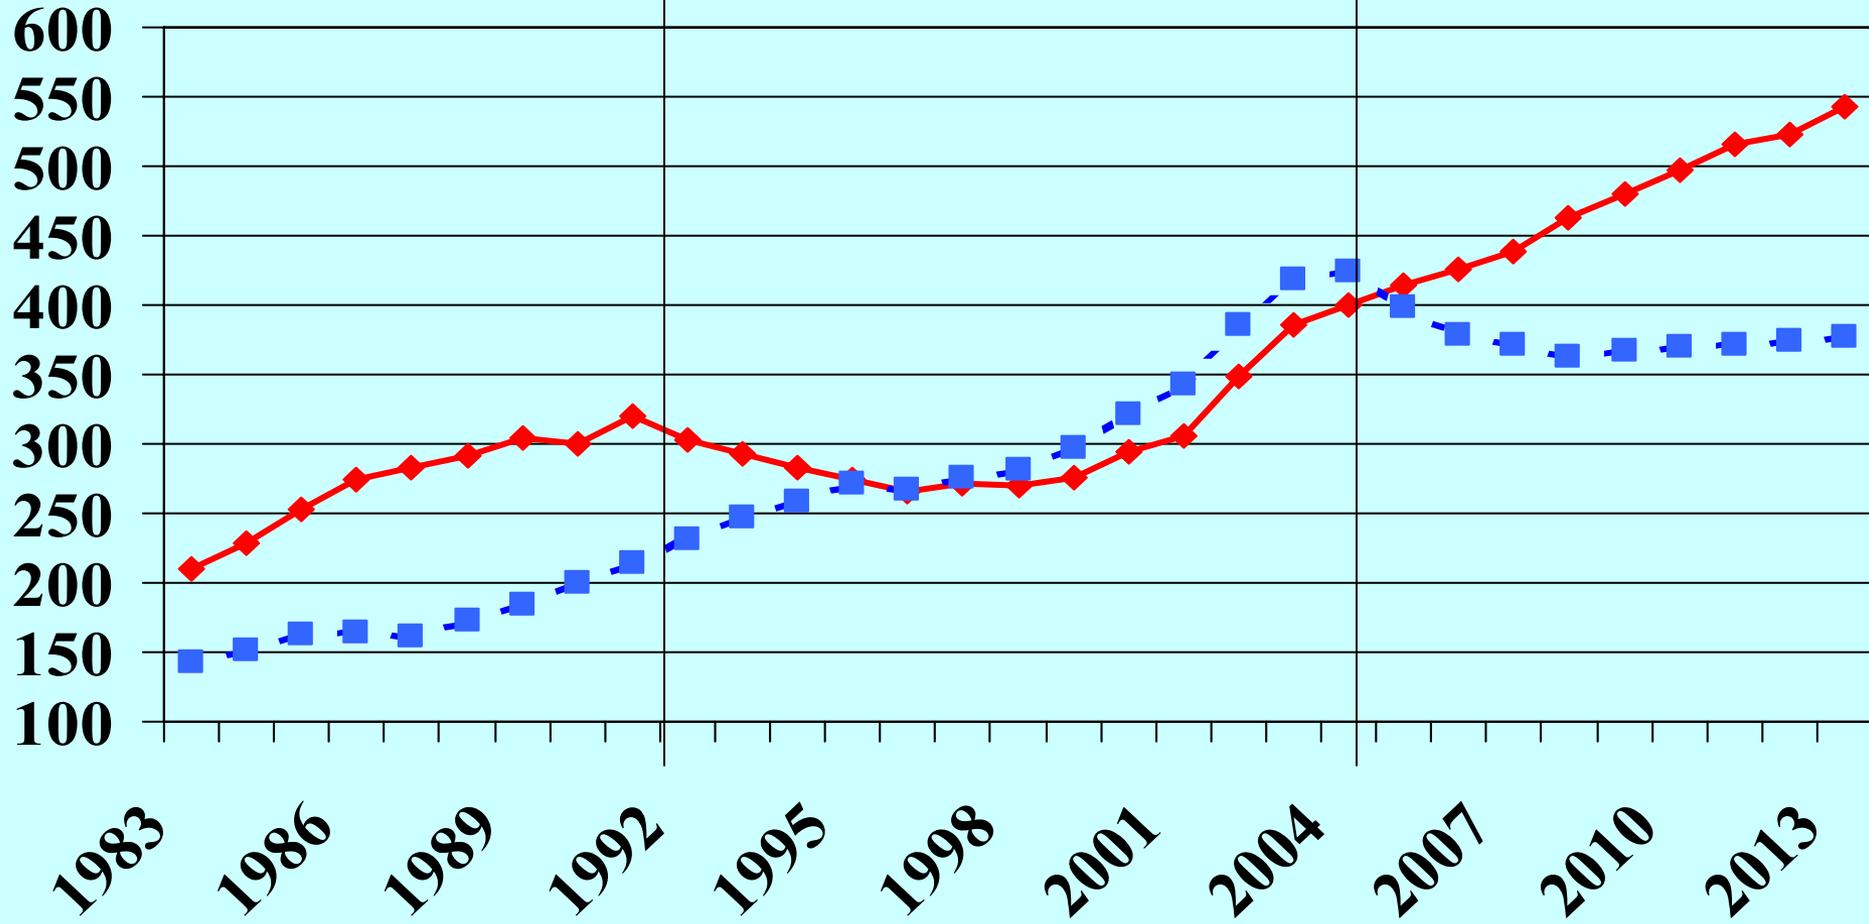

Defense & Non-Defense Discretionary Spending

Outlays in Billions of Dollars

Cold War & Gulf War

1992 to 2003

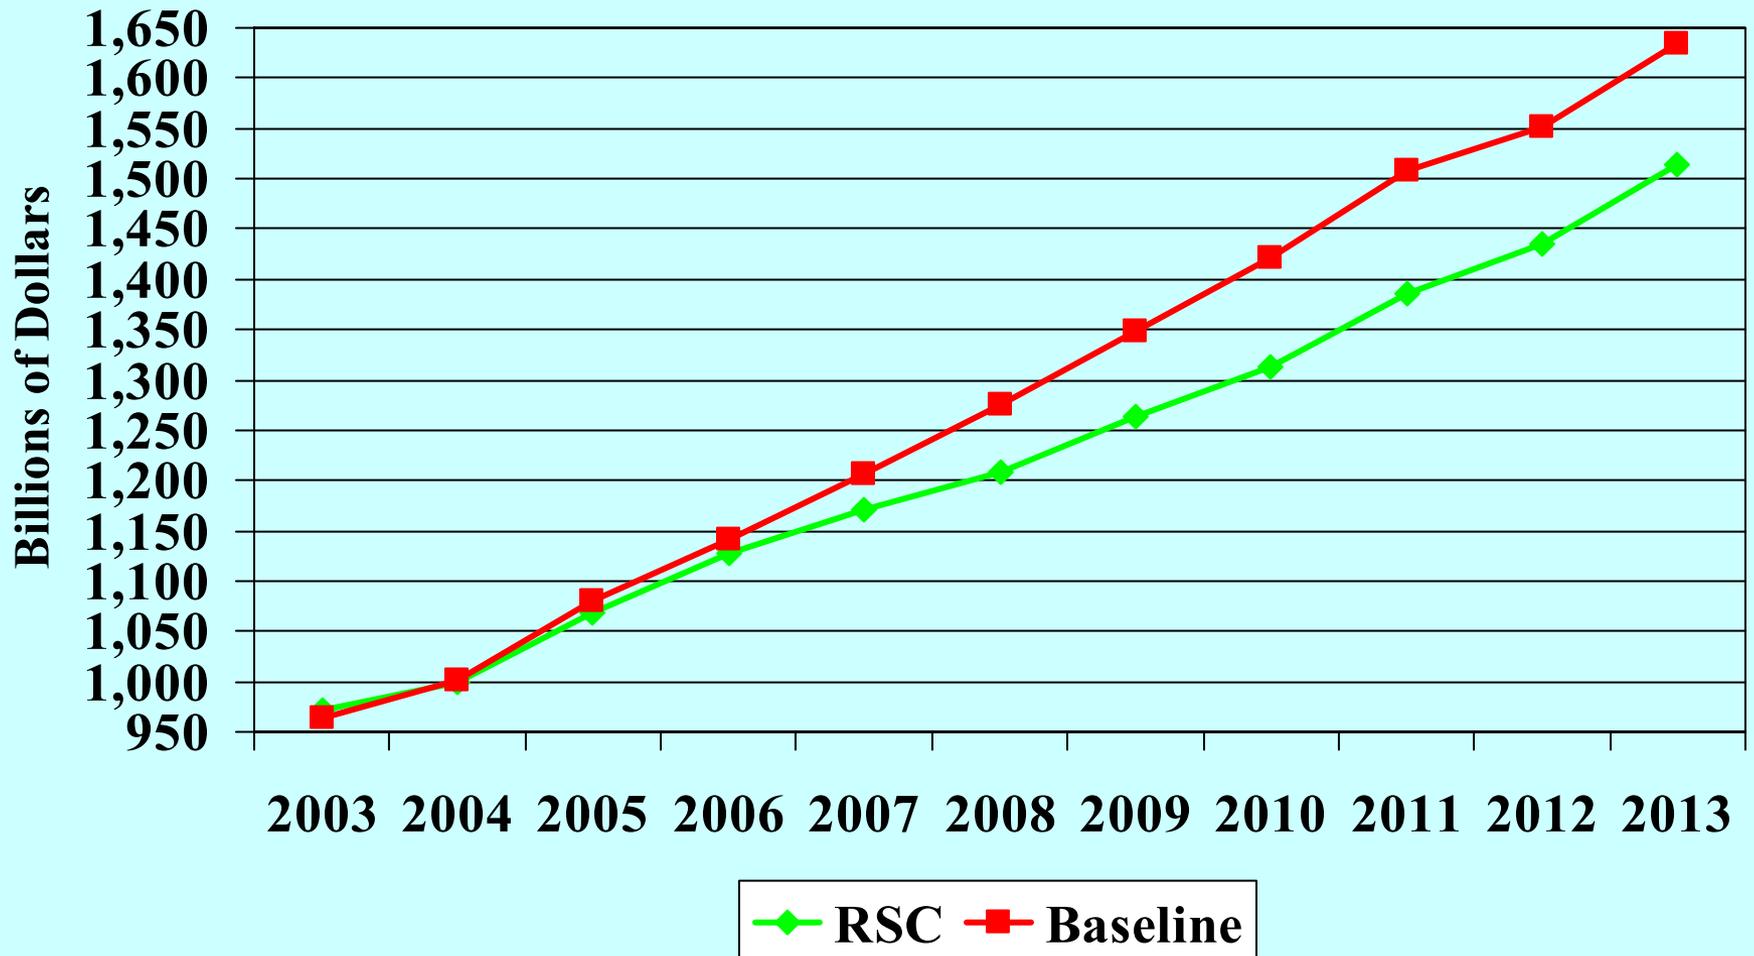

RSC Budget

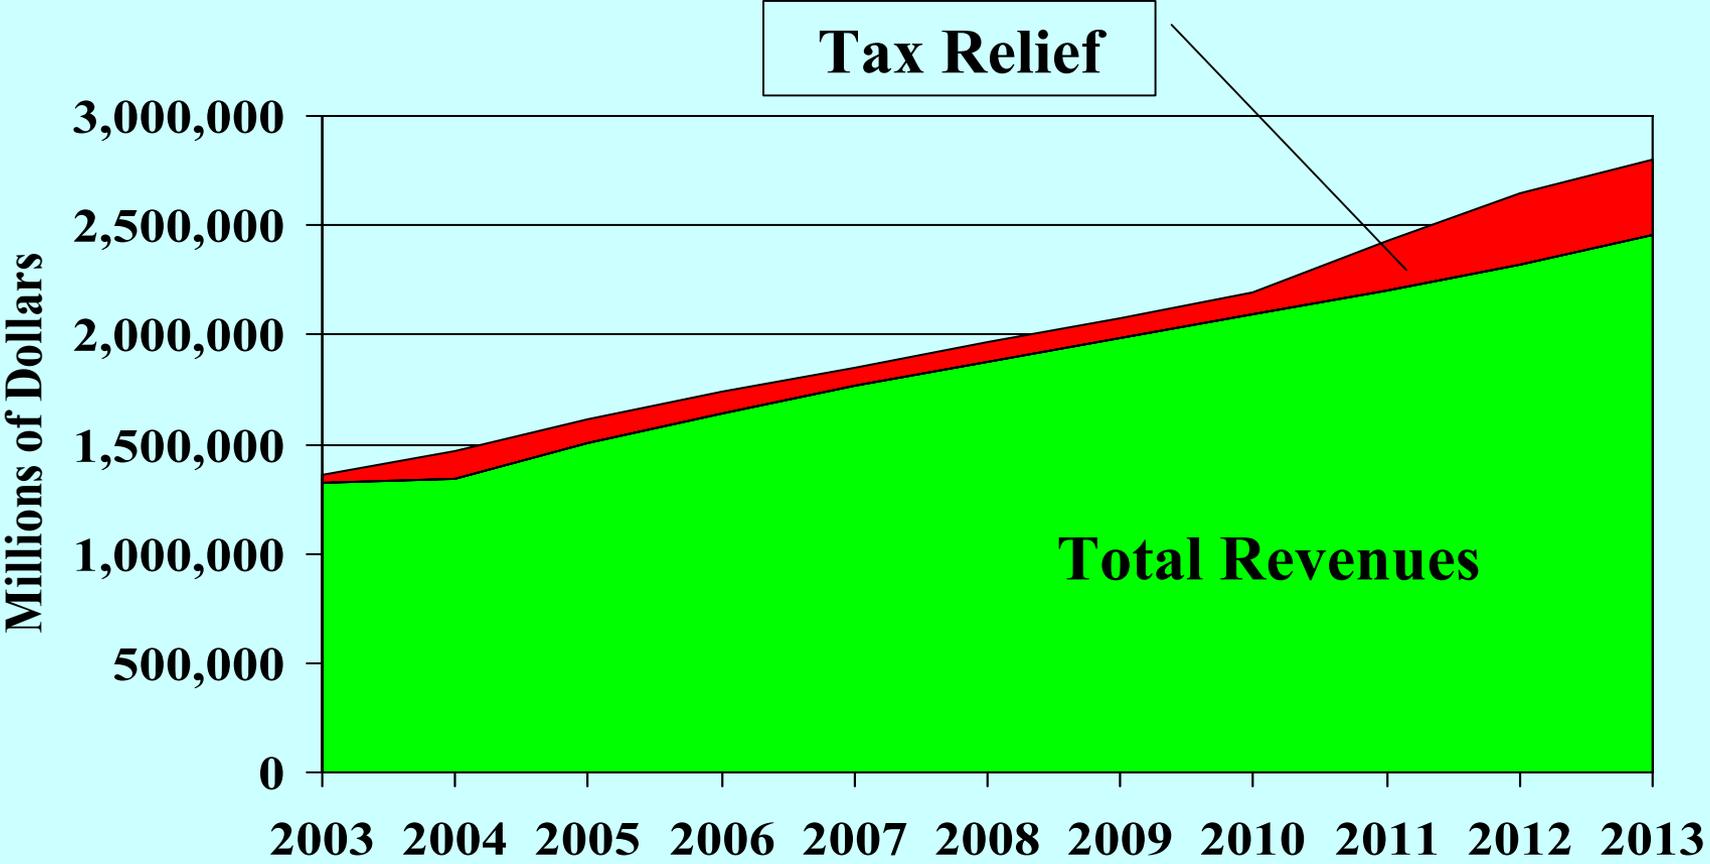

Source: CBO, RSC Budget

Mandatory Spending in the Budget

Revenues & Tax Relief in RSC Budget

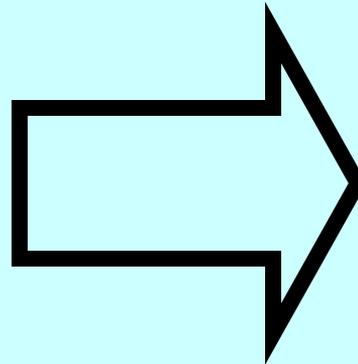

Tax Relief = Job Creation

RSC Budget

The RSC Budget Accommodates the Following Tax Relief Proposals:

- Repeal of the Double Taxation of Dividends
- Reduction in Tax Rates for Individuals & Small Businesses
- Reduction in Marriage Penalty and Increase in the Per Child Tax Credit
- Small Business Expensing
- Capital Gains Tax Relief
- And More...

American Workers

Early estimates indicate that these proposals would permit the economy to add over 1 million new jobs each of the next two years - with those jobs continuing into future years.

Fiscal Restraint = Balanced Budgets

Deficits / Surpluses Under the RSC Budget

